An Income Increase-Might Help Not Hinder

As 1973 runs out, so does the time in which a taxpayer can do something to decrease-or perhaps increase-his income taxes for the year.

Who would want to increase his taxes? According to Schine, CPA, president of the Florida Institute of Certified Public Accountants, anyone anticipating more income in 1974 than in '73 might consider bringing some of the income and the taxes on it into a year in which the tax rate would be lower.

"This can sometimes be achieved," Schine said, "by aggressive collection of money owed, by sending bills more promptly than usual or by accepting bonuses or commissions ahead of time.

What's shifting income to another year, one might also try to concentrate deductible expenses in the year in which income will be greater. This may be accomplished through advanced or delayed payment of estimated state or local taxes, for example, or by charitable contributions or

"Some taxpayers bunch as many of their deductible expenses as they can in one year," observed Schine. "Then take the standard deduction of up to $2,000 in the years in between."

Another year-end step to offset capital gains realized during the year with capital losses taken the body blow for pollution. Sure there are other causes, but the auto and the dealers, and the customers get the brunt of such drastic legislation and standards about making a product. This has almost never been done before in our country.

Sue can have contributed, but most people, and a lot of government law-givers must think the car is to blame. Almost everything I do contributes to pollution. I like a fireplace. But experts tell us that a good roaring fire in the old fireplace for say three hours a day will still spew into the atmosphere unburned hydrocarbons, NOX, and Carbon Monoxide.

It's equal to the average car burning 1,000 gallons of gas. Put that in your pollution scrapbook. Hey, how about a new law limiting the use of fireplaces, or at least a catch basin after the chimney to catch those hydrocarbons, NOX and carbon monoxide? It's easy to go over board with this regulation, but isn't it?

YES, CARS ARE BETTER TO SERVICE and keep repaired and in tune now than ever before, because cars are much more complicated now. Ever a dode on a Model T? Or a power steering system on a 1962 Chevy? When your car needs service or repair come in here at JIM HERMING'S HERE AT JIM HERMING'S CHEVROLET-OLDSMOBILE IN Pahokee.

MANDATORY USE OF SEAT BELTS. This idea has been kicking around for years. Four years ago the U.S. Territory where citizens are U.S. voters, will have such a mandatory law in effect after Jan. 1, 1974. It might offend you, but those who wear seat belts get hurt less and fewer killed than those who don't. It seems crazy to have to pass laws to protect people from themselves.

Leave the oil-drilling programs to the oil companies and cattle feeding to those who derive for revenue from taxes. Persons of moderate income stand to gain by investing in the so-called "tax sheltered" annuities permitted persons in very high brackets to defer tax on taxes. In the CPA's official opinion, if your income is only moderately high, the risks involved in tax shelters may be much too great for the tax benefits they may bring, if any.

Leave the oil-drilling programs to the oil companies and cattle feeding to those who derive for revenue from taxes.

Schne commented, "The average citizen can much more profitably concentrate on going through his records and taking the steps necessary to insure that he gets every tax exemption, deduction and credit to which he is entitled."

Rotterdam's brilliant flower markets delight both the tourists and Dutch. Also flourishing at the world's busiest seaport is the hotel industry. In the city, the Rotterdam Hilton. The hotel's accommodating staff cultivates a sense of service for service and luxury.

1. Satan... this early American town lost, and urban sprawl followed.

2. Americans and architects believe in the lessons of our forefathers and are trying to right to new land-use policies to create the communities they want.

Death Defying Acts

Belle Glade residents won't have the usual complaint of "nowhere to go and nothing to do" this weekend. The merchants of Glades Plaza are bringing in a free circus for everyone's enjoyment. The circus will have six exciting acts, including a woman who appears to be hanging from her hair 60-feet in the air and an unbelievable balancing act by the Great Lamar who defies death while balancing himself high above the parking lot. The circus will last for three days, with all the shows free. And half-price coupons can be picked up from the Plaza merchants for all of the rides which will be put up in the shopping center parking lot.

Bike Rider Drowns

A six-year old Bare Beach boy drowned Friday when the bicycle he was riding plunged into a canal near his Rita Camp home.

Anthony Phillips of 209 Rita Camp was riding his bike with several other local youths, according to Deputy Sheriff Ray Meland, who took the two-wheeler too close to the edge of the canal running past the camp and went down the embankment and into the water.

His mother, Mrs. Rosie Phillips, was attracted by her son's playmates' cries and dove into the canal herself in an effort to save him.

Two U.S. Sugar Corp.

employees working in the area, Richard Knowles and Mike Davis, went after Mrs. Phillips and pulled her out but were unable to find the six-year old.

Divers from the Bare Beach

Police Department were called to the scene to locate Phillips and Patton Ambulance Service was called to carry the remains to Hendry General Hospital in Clewiston.

6 New Cruisers Purchased

The Belle Glade City Commission met last night in an emergency session on New Year's Eve to approve the emergency purchase of two police cars and the routine purchase of four more cruisers.

Ride were opened for the four police cars on Dec. 20 but the commission withheld approval at that time. City Manager William Mallory said the emergency purchase was made because one car was wrecked and another burned after the bids were aden.

He said those two cars will almost certainly be paid for by insurance funds.

The low bid for the four cars was submitted by Gladys Chevrolet Inc., also known as Glades Chevrolet, Inc., at $3,574.10 each.

One of the cars bought under emergency procedures was a Pontiac Catalina bought from Tom Norton Motor Co. for $3,740.

Excluded from the bid were the four cars to be used by the county attorney and the sheriff.

Brooks said the Pontiac will be used by the county attorney and the sheriff.

Formerly used by Police Chief Charles Goodlett, the chief's old car was handed over to the detective division and the detective division's car was inherited by the patrol division.

After working 21 years with the South Florida Conservancy District, Assistant Supervisor Homer Brooks announced his retirement this Monday.

Brooks has been involved in supervising the district's spry and pumping operations but said his retirement doesn't mean he'll stop everything.
